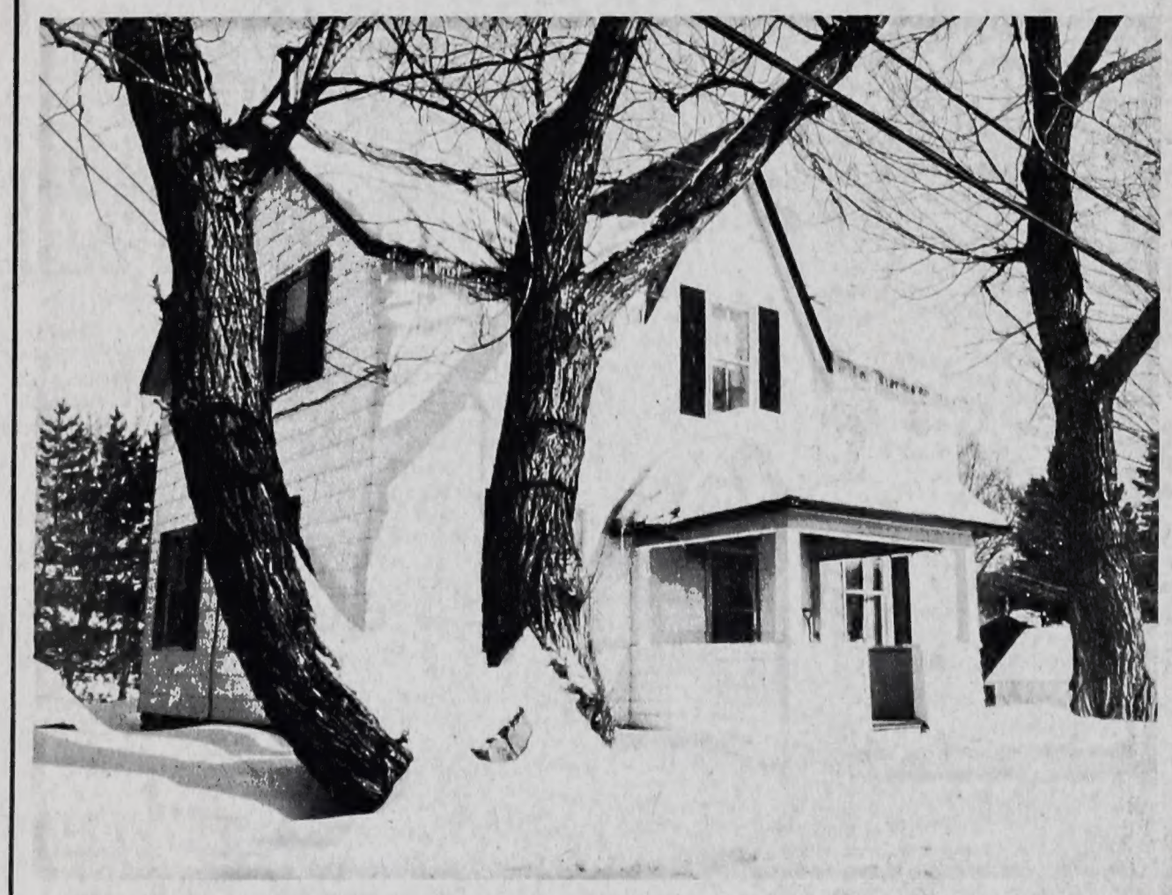
Program helps give new life to older homes



This house, built in 1905, was recently improved with new siding and trim, a drilled well and a new furnace under the Ontario Home Renewal Program.

Grants, loans make renovations possible

Editor's Note:
For the past seven years, Dysart council and others throughout Haliburton County have been participating in the Ontario Home Renewal Program, (OHRP) which helps homeowners carry out renovations to bring houses up to municipal standards. Although many people have benefitted from the program, many more may not know of its existence. For that reason, Dysart et al planning supervisor Derrell Stamp has prepared the following report on the OHRP, which is presented here in the public interest.

New housing alone cannot meet all of the housing needs of the people in Ontario. A key part of the Ministry of Municipal Affairs and Housing's approach to providing affordable, adequate housing for all residents of Ontario is the Ontario Home Renewal Program, a program designed to conserve and improve existing housing stock.

The Municipality of Dysart et al, through a grant received each year from the Ministry, has participated in and administered the program since 1975. Purpose of the program is to assist owner occupants of residential property to repair their homes to standards developed locally and acceptable to the housing ministry. It is particularly aimed at the rehabilitation of substandard houses, with emphasis on faulty structural and sanitary conditions, and the upgrading of plumbing, insulation, heating and electrical systems. Non-essential items such as a second bathroom, recreation rooms, garages, and fences, are not eligible and the re-financing of existing loans or encumbrances is not permitted.

A system of loans (repayable and forgiveable) to pay for property rehabilitation is available to individuals whose adjusted family income does not exceed $15,500. Adjusted family income is the total gross annual income from all sources of the principal wage-earner of a family and his or her spouse after deducting the following:
- earnings of the spouse up to $1,000
- $300 for each dependent child
- the first $1,000 of earnings of a one-parent family
- living out or travelling expenses of the principal wage earner of a family and his or her spouse, but not including living out or travelling expenses for which there is reimbursement by the employer or travelling expenses to and from the place of employment, and
- in the case of self-employment of the principal wage-earner of a family or his or her spouse, the expenses which are:
- incurred in the earning of income,
- permitted deductions under the Income Tax Act (Canada).

The maximum amount of the loan (repayable plus forgiveable) is $7,500. The municipality may

Gas prices too high

Dysart wants companies to alter zones

Haliburton County has some of the highest gasoline prices in Ontario, and Dysart et al council thinks oil companies, not individual dealers, are to blame. At a meeting Monday, council agreed to ask local MPP John Eakins to take the matter up with various ministries in an effort to get the situation changed.

Reeve Murray Fearrey told council he believes the main culprit behind the inordinately high price of gasoline in the county, and in Haliburton village in particular, is oil companies which charge dealers wholesale prices that are higher than retail prices elsewhere.

Brand name dealers in Haliburton are currently charging 44.4 cents per litre, or $2.02 for a gallon of regular gasoline. The latest price increase, imposed last week, added 2.5 cents a litre at the pumps. But the tax portion of that increase was only two cents a litre. The other half cent was added by the oil companies.

Dealer margins average about 13 cents a gallon in the Haliburton area, four to six cents higher than in other areas, but not high enough to account for the huge discrepancy between prices charged here and elsewhere in Ontario, council was told. Even after the latest price increase, gasoline could be purchased in Toronto, Peterborough and other surrounding areas for as much as 38 cents a gallon less than in Haliburton.

Wholesale prices to dealers are set according to zones, council was told, and Haliburton happens to be designated for higher prices. Council believes higher transportation costs to the area may account for prices one or two cents higher per litre than in other areas, but feels differences of up to eight cents a litre are unreasonable and detrimental to the tourist business on which the area depends.

Council agreed to press the issue with MPP John Eakins in hopes of having the zone structure altered.

Fines levied for hunting

Men convicted of killing deer out of season

The illegal killing of a deer and a moose in unrelated incidents last fall, led to four men being convicted and fined for the offences, last Thursday.

Two Gooderham men, Steven and Robert Ricketts, were fined $250 plus $3 court costs each and are prohibited from purchasing or possessing a hunting license for two years after pleading guilty to illegal hunting of deer. Two high-power rifles were permanently confiscated from the pair. Robert Traviss, of Gooderham, pleaded not guilty to illegal possession of game but was convicted. He was fined $150 plus $3 court costs. All three convictions arose from deer shooting near Gooderham, December 9, 1981. The open season for deer is scheduled for early November, annually.

A Stoney Creek man pleaded guilty to illegal possession of moose (or parts thereof) after moose remains were discovered in Stanhope, north of Carnarvon. Riziero Diprata was fined $600 plus $90 court costs. A conviction carries a maximum fine of $5,000.

Although the moose meat was never recovered, Eric Mitchell of the Ministry of Natural Resources said moose intestines, legs, and a head minus the antlers were found in Diprata's possession.

There was no open season for moose in the area last year.

Families to get mortgage aid

Joint program an alternative to government housing

Up to 12 local families could get their first taste of home ownership under a mortgage assistance program slated to begin in Dysart et al this year.

The program, administered jointly by the federal and provincial governments, will enable eligible families to purchase homes with payments geared to income.

Under the scheme, new homes are built and/or older home renovated to provide affordable housing for people who could not otherwise purchase the dwellings. Monthly mortgage payments are geared to the income of successful applicants, and will not exceed 25 per cent of that income. Individuals may also be allowed to use their labour in renovations and landscaping as a form of downpayment. The scheme, which is 75 per cent funded by the federal government and 25 per cent by the provincial government, enables a mortgage to be paid off in 25 years.

"We're rather anxious to see this program go in" Dysart clerk Wayne Wood commented Tuesday. "We think it's pretty important, and we think it's much better than provincial low rental housing."

While eligible families must be able to meet monthly payments and work as a downpayment if they do not have ready cash, it may be possible to qualify for one of the homes with an income as low as $8,000 a year, Wood said.

Homes valued at up to $54,000 will be built or renovated for the program, and up to 12 will be provided this year. In subsequent years, more homes will be added according to need.

More details on the program will appear in an advertisement in next week's edition of the Echo. In the meantime, anyone who wants more information on the program should contact Dysart et al planning supervisor Derrell Stamp at the municipal office.

Dysart to study airport idea

Dysart et al council will investigate the possibility of building an airport in the municipality capable of handling multi passenger commuter aircraft.

Reeve Murray Fearrey said Monday that the Ministry of Transportation and Communications would fund up to 80 per cent of an approved airport project. The facility envisioned by council would have a minimum of 3500 feet of paved and lighted runway, as well as taxi ways, a control tower, hangers and parking facilities.

While a potential site for the airport was not made public, council indicated that at lease two suitable sites exist in the municipality.

Before proceeding further, council agreed to meet with Stanhope council, to discuss future plans for the Stanhope airport. But Reeve Fearrey noted that expansion of the facility in Stanhope is unlikely because of public pressure and limited land area.

Dysart to press for promised aid

Dysart et al council is still looking for promised relief from the impact of equalized assessment. And at a meeting Monday, council authorized reeve Murray Fearrey to pursue the matter with provincial revenue minister George McCague.

When council agreed to ask for equalized assessment under section 86 of The Assessment Act, it understoon assessment appeals might reduce municipal revenues by up to two per cent. In fact, however, revenues were reduced by almost four per cent, primarily because of a successful appeal by Haliburton Forest and Wild-

Church moderator speaks in Lochlin

Dr. Lois Wilson, first woman moderator of the United Church of Canada, spoke at the Lochlin United Church, last Friday evening.

As part of the World Day of Prayer service, Dr. Wilson talked about her travels during the past year as representative of the church.

In comparison to this year's service in a small church located on a gravel road in central Ontario, Dr. Wilson said last year she worshipped in a Methodist Church in Brazil. The World Day of Prayer service, usually taken by local women's church group, was completely read by the Brazilian men. The reason, of course, Dr. Wilson said, was that the women were illiterate.

Dr. Wilson related many tales of the poverty and suffering she observed in her travels in other countries, and suggested to her audience that as individuals, they must be willing to sacrifice their affluent life before situations will improve in third world countries.

"I find myself angry in some ways with my country," she said.

As moderator, she wishes to attend churches where no other moderator has spoken. The role of moderator is "highly touted", she said, adding that it is second only to the role of Canadian Supreme Court Judge, Bora Laskin. In her role, Dr. Wilson must preside at executive meetings, represent the church at official functions, interpret church pol-decide on the combination of forgiveable loan and repayable loan but the maximum amount that can be forgiven is geared to family income and must not exceed $4,000. The forgiveable portion is earned by continued ownership and occupancy for a period of time depending on the amount of the forgiveable portion. For example, if the forgiveable portion was $3,000, the homeowner-borrower would earn the forgiveness at the rate of $600 each full year of occupancy. If he ceased to own or occupy the house before the five years required to earn the total forgiveness of the loan, he would have to pay the unearned portion and the outstanding balance of the repayable portion with interest immediately. The interest rate on the repayable portion is geared to family income and ranges from zero per cent for those under $3,000 to eight per cent for those over $8,000.

People who want to improve their homes should go to the municipal office where they will be directed to the appropriate official to discuss eligibility. Applicants are required to provide details of their income and that of their spouse, and must agree to have employers verify the income.

Mortgage and tax payments, as well as details of title to the property, must also be disclosed.

Applicants must agree to an inspection of their home and discuss how much work is to be done and how it is to be carried out. All information and documents are kept strictly confidential.

The municipality will confirm the eligibility of the owner occupant, arrange an inspection to determine the extent of the work to be done, and prepare an estimate of costs. The owner then gets estimates from two or more contractors and makes application to the municipality for a loan - both payable and forgiveable portions - to cover the work. If the estimates are satisfactory, and the applicant meets the eligibility requirements of income, credit-worthiness, etc., the municipality approves a loan and arranges for signing of the documents. The borrower must provide security for both the forgiveable and repayable portions of the loan to guarantee repayment.

The borrower applicant then awards contracts and proceeds with the work as outlined. In some cases, applicants can do the work themselves, but only if they have the skills to perform it satisfactorily in a minimum amount of time. The municipality will advance funds for payment as the work proceeds. Periodic inspections are carried out during the work as an aid to the owner and the contractor and to ensure that the work has been completed satisfactorily.

Repayment of the loan, excluding the forgiveable portion, commences after completion as advised by the municipality. Payments must be made on a monthly basis.

Since 1975, a total of 75 homes have been renovated and improved in the Municipality of Dysart et al under the program. Loans in excess of $365,000 have been granted to these homeowners to carry out improvements.

poll on Thanksgiving weekend of election years.

In a report to FOCA's annual meeting, vice president of operations Jasper Moore, said the association supports local councils' stand against the proposed extension of the municipal term to three years. He urged cottage association members to make their feelings on the matter known at Queen's Park.

Moore also indicated that the association wants the province to move the advance poll ahead from the first Saturday of November to the Saturday preceeding Thanksgiving. The change would make it easier for seasonal residents to exercise their right to vote, FOCA believes.

Phones delayed for Miskwabi

Long hoped for telephone service to Lake Miskwabi in Dudley Township will not be forthcoming this year, Bell Canada has told the lake's cottage association.

In a letter to the association, the company said inadequate funds have forced curtailment of a program to string lines in unserviced areas.

Bell said it would notify the association as soon as funds become available to service the area.

Stanhope council minutes

At a meeting February 10, Stanhope Township council considered the following matters:

Council requested the maximum amount of eligible monies from the Ministry of Housing for the continuance of the Ontario Home Renewal Program by this Township for the 1982/83 provincial fiscal year.

Council adopted the minimum standards for the Ontario Home Renewal Program, 1982/83 as set out in the Ontario Home Renewal Administration Guideline Booklet.

Council appointed the following as Fire Wardens for the Township of Stanhope for the 1982 year: Gordon Martin, Robert Jennings, Larry Hewitt, Robert Nangle, Ray Welch, Dale MacDonald and James Moore. James Moore was appointed Chief Fire Warden. The following were appointed Fire Permit Issuers for 1982: James Moore, Robert Baker, Andry Broerasma, R.R. 2, Minden and Fred Chapple, R.R. 2, Minden.

Council acknowledged receipt of an application for employment from Vernon Rivers and this application was filed for future reference.

Council authorized an agreement be signed on behalf of the Township with the Canadian Red Cross Society to provide the Homemaking Service in Stanhope Township for the year 1982 at a rate of $6.75 per hour or $54.00 per eight hour day.

The clerk was authorized to make application under the Summer Canada Student Employment Program for three students to be employed from July 5, 1982 to August 27, 1982, inclusive.

Stanhope Township authorized Gerald Bain to attend the "Job Evaluation Seminar" as outlined in Association of Municipalities of Ontario Brochure and will cover the cost involved.

James Moore was appointed to the "Feasibility Study Committee" for Recreation.

Council acknowledged receipt of minutes of meeting of the "Feasibility Study Committee" on Recreation held January 6, also January 27 and February 1982 respectively. Council also acknowledged receipt of the chairman's report from this committee.

John Barclay was appointed a committee of one to form an emergency relief post for Stanhope Township.

Elgin Stouffer was appointed as council representative to the 1982 Stanhope Fun Day Committee.

Council acknowledged receipt of minutes of a Community Centres Board meeting held January 28, 1982.

Council authorized the clerk to place appropriate advertisements in local papers for Swimming Instructors for the 1982 Swimming Programme.

Council appointed Mrs. Marlene Deller and John Barclay, members of the Stanhope Recreation Committee from the present time to December 31, 1982.

Council declared that persons serving on any municipal committee will automatically be suspended as a member of such committee when they have been absent from three consecutive regular committee meetings for reasons other than sickness or for reasons beyond their control.

Council will petition the Ministry of Transportation and Communications for subsidy on a $296,227.20 expenditure on the 1981 road program. This expenditure to icies and must fulfill a pastoral function both in Canada and overseas.

"It's a flexible, open job," she said. Each moderator, in an individual way brings something different into the church, Dr. Wilson concluded.

Members of the audience were given an opportunity to question Dr. Wilson on her travels and her feelings on church policy.

Youths charged after robbery

Two Minden area youths face charges in connection with a February 20 theft from a farmhouse in Snowdon Township.

Joseph Allan MacMinn, 18, of Lutterworth Township and Stanley R. Baker, 18, of Minden Township, were charged following a police investigation.

Stolen from the farmhouse, owned by Kenneth Soehner of Agincourt, were televisions, stereo equipment and liquor valued at $1,620.

All the stolen property except the liquor, was recovered.

Police hope feet of clay will lead them to thief

Minden OPP are hoping potter's clay will help them solve two breakins that occured in Haliburton village last Tuesday. The clay may be stuck to the boots of the thief who stepped into a barrel of it when he broke into the Lakeview Centre through a basement window and stole a cashbox containing $18.

The same individual is thought to be responsible for a breakin last Tuesday night at the Maple Street office of optometrist Kimberly Esther Raymond. Entry to the office was gained by forcing a rear door. A total of $344 in cash was stolen.

The cash box from the Lakeview breakin, belonging to Sir Sandford Fleming College, was recovered near the bridge on Maple Street, leading police to speculate that the Lakeview breakin occured first, and that the person responsible may also have carried out the theft from the optometrists office.

Because potters clay is hard to remove, police believe someone may have noticed it on the guilty person's boots.

Anyone who can supply information on the breakins is asked to contact the OPP Minden detachment.

Committee on logging by-law to report to Dysart by June 1

An advisory committee to consider methods of controlling commercial logging practices in local forests will present its recommendations to Dysart et al council by June 1.

The committee was set up February 17 at a public meeting in Haliburton at which Dysart et al council aired its concerns about the state of local forests. Loggers, cottagers and council reached a concensus on the need for some form of harvest controls, but no simple solution was forthcoming.

The committee was formed to study the issue and recommend steps council should take to improve the forests, including the feasibility of implimenting a by-law that would set minimum diameters for commercially harvested trees.

Appointed to the committee at the February 17 meeting were Bill Emmerson, Brian Sarginson, Charles Heard, Sinc Nesbitt, Ray Woodward, John Bruce, and Peter Hynard.

At a meeting Monday, council appointed Sid Cooper as its representative on the committee, and agreed the committee should table its recommendations by June 1.

life Preserve.

When Dysart puts its case to regional assessor Ivor James, he agreed to take Dysart's concerns to the revenue minister, and indicated that some help would almost certainly be forthcoming.

To date, however, council has heard nothing from the minister, and it has now decided to press for a ruling.

Henrys retire after 32 years in tourist business

Chance brought them to Halimar, hard work made it one of the area's most popular resorts

by SUE COOPER
Staff Reporter

Lake Kashagawigamog: the name has intrigued every newcomer to Haliburton County, but the ancient Indian word became more than a passing curiosity for Bruce and Marion Henry. It changed the direction of their lives. The sound of "the lake of long and winding waters" spoken in the native tongue and its accompanying beautiful scenery, urged the couple to leave their comfortable suburban home in Mount Royal, Quebec, in favour of a small lodge on a back road in Haliburton County, almost 32 years ago.

The year was 1950 and although Bruce had dreamed of leaving his job as an engineering planner with TCA (now Air Canada) and "doing something on our own", the resort business was completely over-shadowed by thoughts of photography and hardware. "We had no intention of buying a resort," Marion says from the kitchen that has been added to the lodge building they originally purchased.

Back then, a couple acquainted with the Henrys was interested in purchasing a lodge and tried to convince the Henrys of the advantages, but they were unimpressed. That was until they saw a small advertisement in a Toronto newspaper, saying Halimar was for sale. The name Lake Kashagawigamog and the fact that the present owners wished to leave the county piqued the couple's interest enough to save the paper.

Still unconvinced of the virtues of resort ownership, the Henrys travelled with the couple who were searching for a suitable resort. While in the area, the Henrys decided to call the Halimar resort owners for a viewing but, of course, were not interested in buying.

At the resort, owned by George and Jean Bottomley, the Henrys were unmoved, until they saw the view. The buildings, a main lodge with five rental rooms and three cottages, were insulated, offered only cold water and had no bathtubs. The road leading to the resort was little more than a laneway and the resort's clientele was undeveloped after only two years of operation.

Bruce knew the buildings could be changed and improved but nothing would ever supercede the view. "The net result was that we bought, and they (the other couple) didn't," Bruce says.

They sold their house in Mount Royal, to purchase the vacation property, although they were concerned the previous owners had not recommended living in the lodge during the winter. Nonetheless, the couple and their three small children moved into the lodge in May.

The Henrys' dreams of a more easy-going life of self employment began to fade in the face of reality when they realized few tourists knew their accomodations existed. "We expected guests as soon as we opened the door," Marion says, recalling their inexperience.

"The first guests, I had to shang-hai off the road," Bruce laughs. In those early days, the Chamber of Commerce did not exist but there was a tourist bureau, located in Minden. As one of his first official duties, Bruce travelled to the office with a cheque to pay his annual dues. During the trip, he noticed three men hitch-hiking along the road in the opposite direction and on his return he saw they had not yet obtained a ride. In his out-going manner, Bruce offered the fellows a ride and in the course of conversation asked where they were headed. When he heard they were looking for a place to stay the night, Bruce's eyes lit up and he recommended a fine resort, Halimar. The trio said their plans for the week-end included dancing at the Golden Slipper on Lake Kashagawigamog, and Bruce knew he'd made a sale. He offered to loan them his boat at no charge (after all the "Slipper" was just across the lake), if they would only rent accomodation at his resort. The men spent an enjoyable week-end as the Henrys' first official guests and two of them returned five years later to once again enjoy Halimar's hospitality.

In those early years, as tourism began to grow in Haliburton, the accomodation was a stark contrast to today's facilities. During the 1950's, it seemed to Marion, most motels or resorts charged adult rates for children or did not allow the youngsters at all. With three children, the Henrys realized the importance of family accomodation and dubbed Halimar as a family resort.

As the summer business continued to grow, through limited advertisements in the Toronto Telegram, Globe and Mail, Star, and their own brochures and through tourist associations, the Henrys were able to improve the facilities at the lodge. Bruce's first project was to build a dock on the beach that had convinced the couple to leave Mount Royal. Steel for the dock was obtained from the Standard Chemical Company in Donald after it's wood alcohol plant closure. But the improvements didn't stop there; over the years, the Henrys insulated the buildings, built a swimming pool, tennis courts, improved the existing cottages and built seven more and redesigned the lodge's upper level into three apartment suites.

It was the improvements and the hospitality that kept the Henrys' guests coming back, year after year. For 27 years the resort was operated on the American Plan format, offering specific meals at scheduled times, while guests enjoyed the independence of private cottages. "We were very much aware of people's safety and happiness while they were staying with us. If they didn't have a good time, we'd check ourselves first," Bruce said.

When the decision to change to housekeeping or efficiency cottages came in 1977, the decrease in staff responsibilities appealed to the Henrys but they were aware some of their clientele might not return when meals were not offered.

However, the Henrys realized some guests disliked the strict meal schedule followed on an American Plan and with an increase in food costs and added delivery problems, they opted for the efficiency cottages.

The changeover, however, did not cause the Henrys to loose much of their business. They estimate that 75 to 80 per cent of their clientele returned for their annual vacations.

During their years at the resort the Henrys derived enjoyment not only from their guests ("If you like people, then you'd like the resort business") but also from their neighbouring resorts and businesses.

When the Henrys came to the area, the now-strong Lake Kashagawigamog Tourist Association (LKTA) did not exist and it was one of Bruce's antics that brought the group together. At the 1956 Sportsman's show in Toronto, Bruce began a conversation with ski tournament organizers. In his unabashed way, Bruce asked the organizers why none of the tournaments were sponsored in the Haliburton area but were often held in Muskoka. Talks with the ski organizers continued over a few weeks as Bruce showed pictures of the area and promoted its virtues. The conversation became so serious that the organizers travelled to Haliburton County and agreed Lake Kashagawigamog would be the perfect setting for the Eastern Open Water Ski Championships. The organizers had only one condition: the headquarters and main viewing area must be Halimar, with its suitably terraced lawn. The Henrys were a little stunned but agreed. Bruce headed off to the tourist associaton to request help with the plans. However, in Haliburton County fashion, the tourist bureau said it could not ethically promote one area over another and Henry would have to plan and promote the project on his own.

Undaunted, the Henrys contacted local resort owners and business people in both villages of Minden and Haliburton and the overwhelming response was a surprise.

"It was a huge affair," Marion recalls. Spectators crowded the lawn, church groups sold

Good news

Dysart et al got some good news this week when it learned that the federal and provincial governments would cooperate on a program to make home ownership possible for some area families who could not otherwise enjoy it. Up to 12 homes will be renovated or newly built this year and offered to people who can qualify for an assisted mortgage scheme. The program offers hope to people who can qualify for an assisted mortgage scheme. The program offers hope to people with a pressing need for better housing who lack the financial means to carry a substantial mortgage at bank interest rates. And because qualified applicants will own the homes, make payments that equal up to one quarter of their annual income, and retire the debt in 25 years, hte program should also help induce the pride in ownership so lacking in other government assisted housing schemes.

Overall, the new program should benefit the community in a number of ways. It will improve existing housing. It will create new housing and it will make life better for those who qualify.

There is a price to be paid, of course. Government assistance is money that every citizen has paid in the form of taxes. But when so much of the money governments collect is squandered on programs that do little or nothing to help the common man, it is refreshing to discover that at least one program spends money to improve the community in a tangible way.

A fine season

The Haliburton Huskies may have been tired and disheartened when they lost the fifth and deciding game of their playoff series against Parry Sound on Sunday, but they had every reason to be pleased with their performance this year. From the outset the team has given local fans plenty to cheer about and win or lose, the Huskies have added an important dimension to the hockey scene in Haliburton.

Just one year ago, the future of the team was in doubt. After a poor season, the Junior D loop in which the Huskies had played was disbanded. The only solution was to move up to Junior C and try to gain a place in the Muskoka area league. But that feat was not easy to accomplish. Firstly, other teams in the league were not anxious to incur the extra expense and the extra time to travel to Haliburton. Secondly, the team had lost money, and no one knew if it could be sustained for another year. But then an appeal went out to the community. Sponsors were sought, and they came through, putting up money to ice the team this season. The league, despite its initial reluctance, agreed to allow Haliburton in.

It was understood, if never formally spelled out, that if the season was not successful, Junior Hockey would almost certainly disappear from Haliburton. On the strength of the Huskies play this year, however, the team's immediate future seems secure. And for that, players, management and sponsors deserve a pat on the back.

Worth pursuing

The fact that Dysart council intends to investigate the possibility of building a large scale municipal airport may mean little to people who don't own aircraft and never expect to, but it could mean much to the community as a whole. Because if an airport can be built at a cost local taxpayers can afford, the spinoffs for the local economy will be significant.

Transportation is a limiting factor in the area, not only for industries, but for large scale and expensive tourism development. If people could be flown in and out in commuter aircraft, met with buses and taken to lodges, the area might tap a segment of the tourism market it has not touched before.

Much work needs to be done before Dysart gets an airport, and studies may show that it is simply too expensive. But the idea is well worth pursuing.

Applicant 'sets the record straight'

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

On February 17, your editorial column carried a very uninformed comment about a radio frequency that became available last Fall on Cobourg, Ontario. The emotions of your unidentified writer had been interwoven with a lack of knowledge on the subject which resulted in giving a distorted point of view.

Briefly, let me set the record straight. On March 30, the CRTC will not be deciding the fate of the former Cobourg FM Station. That decision was made after a public hearing last Spring, where no one appeared in support of the station, except the owner, and his manager who has since resigned. You are correct that only a small number of people are aware of the situation, largely because all industry accepted research methods show the former station had little or no audience. However, the license was not renewed because in an industry that is regulated by the federal government broadcasters must live within the federal guidelines, just as doctors, truck drivers, or airline pilots, live within their respective guidelines. The owners and operators of the station you defend in effect broke the law.

I can appreciate the case you make for serious music and to correct yet another inaccuracy, I as one of the applicants for the frequency will be broadcasting a significant portion of serious music, including that performed by local artists. In deciding our serious music commitment, we had to consider the fact that the CBC's stereo service largely classical music and fine arts programming, will be broadcasting from a new station in the area by the summer of '82. In meetings with the CBC I have been fortunate to receive their cooperation on music selection to ensure a greater choice of serious music listening.

I wonder at your printing a statement that no other applicant is providing serious music when no one from the Echo contacted us to ask about our programming.

Your statement that the CRTC has a mandate to support Canadian culture is essentially correct, however, culture is not only music and I am sure you realize that it covers a vast area of human endeavours.

In your defence of a serious music station, understand that the real issue is not music, but money. Only the CBC can afford to operate classical music stations, which the CRTC knows and have charged the CBC to provide. The former Cobourg station went off the air for a variety of reasons, but primarily because they could not generate enough money to operate properly. Advertisers investing in media, must reach an audience and that station could not provide the audience. This may be a simplistic statement, but entirely true and supported by the fact that there isn't a privately owned classical music station in Canada. This is why CBC are charged to provide classical and arts programming for the segment of the community that are keenly interested. But, at an enormous expense to all taxpayers.

Given these facts, you should be pleased about the new CBC stereo station in this area. Further, reading the reasons why the former station lost their license you would be defending them so stupidly.

Here's to better research.

Yours truly,
Harold Abernethy
President.

To the Editor:

Replying to correspondence in the third of March issue of your newspaper:

Prolonging discussion regarding the removal of the word "Provisional" as part of the name of Haliburton County, is becoming tedious; after all, the initial circumstances, over a century ago, that sponsored the qualification "Provisional", no longer apply.

Both the past and present Wardens of the County have assured the members that deletion of "Provisional", will not have any detrimental affect on financial assistance to the county from the Provincial Government. To question this assurance is a reflection on the integrity of both men and an affront to their intelligence!

I suggest that further hesitation in the process of excluding the word "Provisional", will lead to the assumption that Haliburton County Council resembles a psuedo-mature being, who has remained at home, lacking the moral courage to sever the "apron strings"!

"Procrastination is the thief of time"; any dithering will hardly inspire confidence in our ability, as a county council, to be far-sighted and decisive with more important issues.

Sincerely,
Glynne Lewis

The Uxbridge Ux-Port Chalkdusters would like to thank the Haliburton Chalkdusters, tournament organizer Glen Scully, and the town of Haliburton for their fine hospitality during Winter Carnival week-end. Once again Art and Joan Ward of Wig-A-Mog Inn were superb hosts and nourished the old men through the week-end with good food and fine music. We look forward to next year's Carnival, a year older and definitely slower but nevertheless always hacking away.

Thanks again and all the best in the ensuing year.

Creighton Feir

There's no doubt that people are getting into fitness now. Most people, if they are smart at all, know full well that their life depends on it and this is the reason why a great many people are getting into it. The people from Participaction are responsible for this and during the past two or three years they have been reminding us through the media that now is the time to get fit and get into shape. Most of us know deep down, but we hesitate to admit the fact that we are out of shape and that there is only one way to get feeling better and keep in good health and that is to start some kind of a regular exercise program. Just look around you and it is quite noticeable that many people are out jogging, and many people are leaving their cars and trucks at home and are out walking, many are downhill skiing, many are skating once again, cross country skiing has become very popular, a large number are curling and playing squash. Men's recreational hockey leagues have sprung up in both Minden and Haliburton and a large number of men enjoy playing hockey for the fun of it and they find that the game keeps them in shape. In the good old summertime tennis and golf are great exercise sports along with swimming, baseball, hiking or you name it. Yes, fitness is now the name of the game, and if it doesn't do anything else it will help to keep a person's weight down. I love to see people out jogging and I firmly believe that it's the proper thing to do if you are trying to keep in shape. When it comes to exercising on a daily basis one has to discipline themselves to the point that it becomes a daily habit.

Following a recent Saturday morning church service at the Haliburton United Church I had a conversation with Doug Devolin, principal at the Haliburton Highlands Senior Elementary School and he was pointing out to me what a wonderful job the various leaders of the Scouting movement were doing in Haliburton. On this particular Sunday the scouts, cubs, beavers, girl guides and brownies held a church parade to the Haliburton United Church. I have to agree that these men and women deserve a great deal of credit for the wonderful job they are doing with these young people and how they are giving freely of their time to help these boys and girls become better citizens in the world of tomorrow. It is people such as you who make this a better world in which to live. Keep up the good work and may God bless each and everyone of you.

There seems to be a great many people from the big city who wonder how in the world we manage to put in the time here in Haliburton County. Well, let me tell you, there are plenty of activities here to keep one busy most of the time. We have many new and old sports facilities here in the county and when it comes to winter sports we have a great deal to offer. I have been to Sir Sam's Ski Area on a few occasions this past winter and it's always a hive of activity, especially on the week-ends. Wednesdays, which have been set aside as Ladies Day, are also proving to be a big hit with well over 100 people there on those days. PineStone Inn and Country Club are having one of their busiest winters on record with hundreds of people using their cross country ski trails, others snowmobiling and skating and entering into other winter sports. A local fellow told me the other day that he finds that the various winter activities that we have eat up more time than do the summer months.

Bill St. Pierre of the Circle Square Ranch will be the guest speaker when the Full Gospel Businessmen's Fellowship in Canada hold their monthly Fellowship Dinner at the Royal Canadian Legion in Haliburton on Friday evening, March 19 at 7 p.m. Bill St. Pierre was raised in Sudbury, Ontario. He was a Mechanical Technologist for INCO Research, and later he became a high school teacher of technical subjects. He accepted the call of God to full-time service as National Project Engineer and Ranch Director of Circle Square Ranches based at Severn Bridge, Ontario. This work is part of Crossroads Christian Communications and 100 Huntley Street. Bill has witnessed many miracles both in facility development and in people's lives. Bring your young people who are searching for real meaning and purpose.

Lou Consky asked me if I would mention in my column that the Molou and Beaver Theatres have announced a new show time schedule which means that there will be one showing nightly at 8 p.m. only with the box office opening at 7:30 p.m. This change has been made since many people this year were unable to get to the show early due to bad road conditions. The later starting time will give them the opportunity to see the movies right from the beginning.

Many hockey teams in Haliburton County from Novice to the Juniors are now in the playoffs. They have played and worked hard all winter to reach this point and they deserve your support. Your attendance at the games will help them along the way. We must remember that these young hockey players are the future citizens of tomorrow.

The latest report that we have received on Snowarama we understand that about 200 riders participated and approximately $24,000 was raised between the Haliburton and Minden Rotary Clubs. This total was up $3,000 from a year ago when the final total came in at $21,000. Congratulations are in order to everyone who took part.

VIEWPOINT

Pic of the Past

Our thanks go out this week to Mr. Harvey Fearrey of Haliburton for submitting this photo which was taken in the year 1902 showing the Haliburton Citizens Band leading the 12th of July Orange parade down the main street in Haliburton. The parade was passing in front of Ern Fetterly's boarding house when the picture was taken. A great many changes have been made since this photo was taken and the boarding house is long gone and in it's place is the present day IGA parking lot. It was a dry day and the sand was flying in those days before the main street was paved.

Chamber works on membership drive

From the Chamber

by Bob Stinson

One of the negative results of the Chamber's very active itinerary lately has been that there was little or no time for membership contact. Not only have many new businesses not been asked to join the Chamber but current members in some cases felt neglected since no one had called on them for some time. In order to resolve this and build memberships, the directors have volunteered to try and contact all business owners in the County who are not presently members. Letters were mailed about two weeks ago and follow up phone calls by the directors are now being completed.

Membership in the Chamber shows that you care deeply about your community and it's future. We urge all businesses to respond positively to this request for their membership, and urge the public to do business where you see the Chamber of Commerce plaque. Membership fees are, like everything else, increasing by about 10 per cent on April I so why not join us while fees are lower.

New Members

Here are some of the new members that have signed up during our campaign:

Gooderham Collision Service - Dave Scott runs this auto body shop on Highway 503 just west of the village along with a "23½ hour" towing service. You'll have to ask Dave why he takes a half hour off each day.

Happyland Promotions - Ray Lawrenson is putting together a number of advertising and promotion ideas in his Minden headquarters ranging from T-shirts and caps to coupon books for advertisers. He will be contacting many of you.

Don Barker Heating is based in an attractive showroom which formerly housed the "Little Chick Inn" on Highway 35 north of Carnarvon. Don has a number of air tight stoves on display and offers complete installation and service on all heating products.

Elstone Motor Sales Ltd. in Haliburton village has rejoined the Chamber and we welcome them back. Merv Elstone is a franchised Chrysler products dealer and he also provides sales and service on used cars.

The Corner Store at Highways 121 and 35 has also rejoined the Chamber and in the meantime Mrs. Alrutz has added a very complete delicatessen to her variety and general store facilities.

Ginger's Hair Care is located in Lutterworth Pines and has been very popular with the residents there. Ginger Kulas stresses however that you don't have to live in the development to avail yourself of the services.

The Health Shelf in Haliburton village is operated by Margot Dixon and specializes in a wide variety of health and natural foods and related items.

Birch Point Lodge is one of our oldest American Plan Resort establishments and it is still operated by its founder, Mrs. Gould, along with her daughter Jean and her husband Earl and their family.

Minden Sandblasting is operated by Clifford Harding and is based on Highway 121 just south of 35. An excellent example of what can be accomplished with this process is Haliburton Marine's showroom following their fire. Clifford also restores cars and trucks in his shop by eliminating all rust scale, coating the parts with rust resistant paint and oil.

TeePee Construction is now operated by Karl Shaefer and his two sons and their specialty is excavating and grading and complete septic and tile bed systems.

Carnarvon Electrical Contracting and Design is operated by Lorne Heise from the south end of Kushog Lake. All types of commercial and residential wiring are provided by qualified tradesmen.

Minden Medical Clinic is operated by Dr. Lodenquai in Minden.

James Chalk Refrigeration is located at Ox Narrows just off Highway 35. James specializes in heat pumps, and commercial refrigeration service.

Haliburton T.V. is operated by Wayne Speicher from the former shop of Pyramid T.V. at George and Eastern Ave. in Haliburton and is an authorized Electrohome service centre.

Mountain Park Resort on Highway 35 just north of Minden has a new owner and will soon be sporting a new look. John Bath has just purchased the property and has moved here from Oakville. He has many plans for upgrading the establishment and we hope you will all welcome the family to our community.

The Lumberjack Inn at Dorset has been under construction for several years as a labour of love of Leo Fortney. This beautiful restaurant will be just the first phase of a complete resort development that will be a major asset to Dorset. Watch for the opening date.

Proof - Winter Tourism Has Arrived

In last week's column we discussed many of the indications that suggest we have reached a turning point in the development of our winter business. The ultimate indicator came to us this week-end when a tourist visiting our area for the first time said, in all seriousness, "What do you people do around here in the summertime?"

Pension changes in a mobile society

Queen's Park Report

by John Eakins, MPP

Many of my constituents have contacted me in regard to retirement pensions, and so in today's column I would like to take the opportunity to discuss the matter further.

Under current Ontario legislation, full vesting (the entitlement of an employee to his employer's contributions made on his behalf) is required only after age 45 plus 10 years of service. The Haley Comission, the Ontario Legislature's Select Committee, and the provincial Treasurer have come out in favour of 'vesting' and 'locking-in' after 5 years of service. In view of our highly mobile labour force, this seems to me more appropriate than Ontario's current '45 plus 10' rule which is not generating enough years of pensionable service.

I feel the time has also come to seriously consider the idea of pension portability. It is hard to believe that in the 1980's we don't have a mechanism in place for portability among pension funds - at least not in the private sector. There is provision generally for portability among public sector plans, and a plan has been put into effect by the Canadian Life Insurance Association, after a 2 year study period, whereby currently more than 20 major life insurance companies are participating in a scheme which allows an employee to move to a new employer (within the insurance industry) and take with him pension credits for a specified number of years of service.

In spite of this glimmer of hope in the private sector, the fact remains that if an employee of a chemical company wants to change his job and work for a steel company, he cannot transfer his previous credits to his new employer. When pensions aren't portable, people who change jobs end up with bits and pieces of pensions scattered among various employers. The total of these small pensions is often less than the pension they could have collected had they stayed with one employer.

The difficulty in establishing portability in the private sector arises mainly from the many differences in pension plan designs. However, lack of portability is not only a deterrent to the much needed mobility of labour, it is also unfair to employees. A further point which is frequently overlooked is that portability is not only an advantage for the employee, but from the employer's point of view, the lack of portability means keeping track of former employees and the credits owing to them long after they have left the company.

The important thing is that a scheme is needed to enable employees to carry periods of service from employer to employer.

Acid Rain

The question of Acid Rain should continue to be of interest during these winter months. It is interesting to review some background.

Early in the last decade Swedish scientists gave the first warnings about acid rain, which results when emissions of sulphur dioxide (SO_2) and oxides of nitrogen (NO_x) combine with rainfall.

Today in Ontario, between 2,000 and 4,000 lakes (of 25 acre average size) may be acidified to the point where they can no longer support desirable fish species. Scientists estimate that if present trends continue some 48,000 susceptible lakes could become biologically sterile by the year 2000. While the United States produces more SO_2 and NO_x than Canada, the greater proportion of

Wisdom a consolation of growing old

Serendipity

by SUE COOPER

"You are old", said the youth; "one would hardly suppose
That your eye was as steady as ever;
Yet you balance an eel on the end of your nose -
What made you so awfully clever?"

Lewis Carroll

Lately, an older generation has predominated in my life. Retirees and senior citizens have abounded, but it is not a fact I am averse to.

Conversations with more mature people not only entertain but, as most people are aware, educate as well. When confronted by these deep wells of information, I find it difficult not to search insistently for the secret of life. They seem to me to be an enigma; the puzzle I must solve to grasp the happiness life can offer.

The knowledge people acquire throughout their lives is a commodity I would like to find wrapped under the Christmas tree or presented to me on my twenty-first birthday. With life-sense in the brain, problems, once monumental, would be recognized as the insignificant tribulations they are; worrying would be cast from life like an under-the-pound-limit fish into the lake; friends and family would be acknowledged as the only possessions we ever own.

I am not wishing my life away. I would not rather be 65 than 35. But the knowledge of life, like Ponce de Leon's fountain of youth, is teasingly out of reach. Those who possess it cannot bestow it on the person of their choice. It is unfortunate, indeed, that we must live life, or a major part of it, before we fully appreciate its opportunities.

If today, March 10, 1982, (as some suggest), is doomsday, I will have only one regret. (Some scientists theorize that an unusual grouping of the solar system's nine planets located in a 95 degree arc on one side of the sun could set off massive earthquakes on our planet today). I will not lament that I did not attain fame or riches, that dreams were left unfulfilled, but rather that I was not allowed to grow old and enjoy the mystery of life.

Huskies captain Ron Yake out-maneouvres Parry Sound player

Huskies lose in playoff series

Scott Arbuthnot named most valuable defenseman

It took six days and five tough, high scoring games, but the Parry Sound Shamrocks managed to eliminate the Haliburton Huskies in the semi final series, three games to two.

The series was tied at two apiece going into the deciding game in Parry Sound on Sunday, and despite their best efforts, the Huskies couldn't manage to pull it off, losing 6-3.

The defeat was sweetened somewhat by the fact that at the conclusion of the game Huskies' Scott Arbuthnot was told that he had been picked by league officials as the most valuable defenseman in the eight team loop. Arbuthnot finished out the season with 20 goals and 38 assists, the fourth highests total on the team. Only forwards Ron Yake, Dave Nicholls and Tim Davies amassed more points throughout 42 leagues and five playoff games. Final statistics showed Yake with 131 points on the strength of 50 goals and 81 assists; Nicholls with 55 goals and 65 assists for 120 points, and Davies with 45 goals and 60 assists for 105 points.

It was a satisfying season for the Huskies, who established beyond question that they belong in the league. And in fact, they came within three goals of moving on to another round of the playoffs.

The series opener in Parry Sound last Tuesday was a good one for the Huskies, as they put a strong first period and skated to a 7-6 win.

Scott Arbuthnot, Gary Harrison and Tim Davies each found the mark in the opening period, while the Shamrocks were held off the board. In the second frame, Parry Sound came back to score four goals, but Davies' second goal of the game left the score tied at four.

The Huskies took the lead early in the third period, but Parry Sound netted two and had the lead until, with just 14 seconds left on the clock, Ron Yake forced the game into overtime. Dave Nicholls scored early in the period, and the Huskies hung on to take home the victory.

Thursday the Huskies were at home with close to 250 fans on hand to cheer them on, but they appeared to lose heart after Parry Sound drove in several shots that should have been easy to handle.

At the end of the first period the Huskies found themselves trailing 5-2, and after a disorganized second period, they were behind 8-2.

Strong power play performance in the third period enabled them to notch four goals, but it was too late, as the Shamrocks also netted one to take a 9-6 win and even the series at a game each.

Chris Hodgson got two goals in the game, while singles came from Darrin MacInnes, Dave Nicholls, Tim Davies and Ed Roberts.

Game three was back in Parry Sound, and it proved to be a wild affair, as 23 goals were recorded on the scoreboard, 15 of them for Parry Sound and eight for the Huskies.

The score was 4-3 at the end of the first period in favour of Parry Sound, and 11-6 for the home team at the end of the second.

Dave Nicholls accounted for five of the Huskies eight goals, while Ron Yake got two and Scott Arbuthnot got the other.

The Huskies were back at home for game four of the series, and they came up with a big win to keep their hopes alive. Trailing 4-2 at the end of the first period, they were behind 5-4 at the end of the second. But in the third, they came on to score five goals, while Parry Sound notched only two.

Netting goals in the Huskies 9-7 win were Ron Yake with two, Dave Nicholls with two, Don Manary, Ed Roberts, Scott Arbuthnot, Shaun Chapman and Chris Hodgson.

The fifth and deciding game proved to be a frustrating one for the Huskies, as they fell behind early and simply could not make up the lost ground.

Parry Sound got four goals in the first period while the Huskies were kept off the board. In the second period, Dave Nicholls gave the Huskies one and Parry Sound scored two more to lead 6-1 going into the third.

Chris Hodgson and Ron Yake each found the mark in the third period, but it was not enough to make a difference in the outcome, as the Huskies lost 6-3 to end their season.

The game also resulted in

Midgets head to semi-finals

The Haliburton OMHA Midgets are on their way to the Ontario semi finals after three straight wins in the quarter final series against South River. Haliburton wrapped up the series with a hard fought 8-7 win in Minden Thursday and a 6-4 victory in game three Sunday in South River. They will now face Wellington for the right to advance to the provincial "DD" championship series.

Haliburton skated to an easy 8-3 win in game one of the series, but in game two, played in Minden because of a Huskies game in Haliburton, the local Midgets were hard pressed to hang on to a lead they built up in the early going.

South River got on the scoreboard first with a goal less than three minutes into the game, but Haliburton wasted little time in establishing that they were out to make short work for their opponents. Scott Rae tied the match at 4:51 with assists from Kelly Mitchell and Barry Boice. Mitchell followed up quickly with an unassisted goal a minute and a half later to give Haliburton the lead. The local Midgets then added five more while stopping South River cold. Scoring were Scott Rae, assisted by Steve Smith and Kelly Mitchell; Mitchell from Bernie Upton and Jamie Bennett; Rae from Smith; Rae from Fred Roberts; and Jeff Bain from Boice and Smith.

In the second period, South River began to rally while Haliburton went on the defensive to maintain their lead. South River added three markers in the period, at 2:02, 3:21 and 3:57, but Haliburton held off the assault for the rest of the period and led 7-4 going into the third period.

With only seconds elapsed in the final frame, Steve Smith made it 8-4 with help from Rae and Roberts. Once again, however, the South River squad put the pressure on, scoring three unanswered goals to move within one of a tie. But Haliburton held their opponents off for the final 10 minutes of the match and earned their second straight victory in the series.

Sunday Haliburton made the trek to South River, and once more the match proved to be a close and exciting one.

Haliburton owned the ice in the first period, netting three unanswered goals in the first six minutes, then holding off South River's

Skaters win inter-club firsts

-Submitted-

Each year an InterClub Competition is held among seven local figure skating clubs. This year the 11th Kawartha Highlands Inter-Club competition was hosted by the Bobcaygeon Figure Skating Club on Sunday, March 7, 1982.

Skaters are chosen from each club to participate in a number of different events which include figures, free skate solos and dance. Haliburton had a total of 14 skaters who won the honour of competing with skaters from Bobcaygeon, Minden, Lindsay, Bancroft, Fenelon Falls and Lakefield. Many hours of practice are spent getting ready for the stiff competition put on by the other clubs. Haliburton skaters were able to bring home medals for placing third plus two trophies for first place.

The "Gill Trophy" presented from Lindsay was won by Danielle LaRue who finished first in the Preliminary Ladies A event. The "Coombs Trophy" presented from Lindsay went to first place winner Jodie McKnight for the Pre Juvenile Ladies event. Third place bronze medal winners were presented to Kathleen Sauve for Pre Preliminary Ladies B; Noelle LaRue for Preliminary Ladies and Shona Ross for Bronz Interpretive.

Names of other skaters and categories who participated from Haliburton are Karen Elstone, Kendra Curry for Pre Preliminary Ladies A; Cyndy Byers, Margaret Reiss for Pre Preliminary Ladies B; Kim Curry, Lianne Scheffee for Preliminary Ladies; Alison Sisson, Kim MacDonald for Pre Juvenile Ladies and Shona Ross for Pre Novice Ladies. In the Preliminary Mens event, Travis Powers was to compete but there were not enough entries and the event was cancelled.

A new category this year was named Preliminary Interpretive. The trophy, donated by Stuart Baker and family, was presented by Jennifer Baker to Michelle Barker from Bancroft. The Haliburton County trophy for Novice Ladies was presented by Darlene McKnight to Donna Hannivan of Lindsay. The J. McColl Prentice trophy of West Guilford for Pre Novice Ladies presented by Bernice Boughner, went to Kathy Twa of Bancroft.

These skaters will be performing in the club's annual Carnival on Saturday, April 3, 1982. Do make it a date to come out and see them.

challenge as the period wound down. Scoring were Mitchell from Kevin Warburton and Bernie Upton; Jeff Bain from Rae and Smith; and Warburton from Boice.

South River began to come on strongly in the second period, scoring twice while holding Haiburton's shooters at bay.

A little over a minute into the third period, South River tied the score, and it remained that way at the end of regulation time.

Barley 21 seconds into the 10 minute overtime period, South River scored to gain a 4-3 lead. But Haliburton kept the pressure on, and two minutes and 20 seconds later, Kelly Mitchell took a pass from Kevin Warburton and tied the score at 4. Then, at the 5:15 mark, Bernie Upton put one by the South River netminder and Haliburton had the lead once more.

South River struggled vainly to get the equalizer, but their fate was sealed with just 44 seconds left in the overtime period when Kevin Warburton scored into an empty net after taking a pass from Barry Boice.

The schedule for the semi final series against Wellington has not yet been set.

Steamrollers top standings an injury to right winger Tim Davies, who lost a lower tooth and required stitches after a hard check and a high elbow drove his face mask into his lower lip.

Despite the loss, however, management and fans had reason to be pleased with the team's performance this year. For the moment at least, it seems the future of junior hockey in Haliburton is no longer in doubt.

Here, editor Len Pizzey explains how thousands of words and hundreds of elements come together each Tuesday afternoon to make a newspaper.

Learning to talk is child's most important achievement

Babies need to hear adults

by CATHERINE MILLER
Infant Development Consultant

Learning to communicate with others is perhaps the most important achievement a child can make. While true language isn't likely to be used until the child reaches at least a year old, every sound your baby makes - from that first cry through babbling and first words - is a forerunner of speech. If a parent were to remember only one thing about language development it should be this - children need to hear adults talk, and talk and talk...For your baby to pick up speech he needs good models of speech sounds to imitate and opportunities and encouragement to practice his speech skills. In other words, just as you surround him with an emotional and physical environment, surround him with words.

Everyday, in the course of your daily routine, there are all kinds of opportunities for promoting your infant's language development, just waiting for you to make the most of them. In the following series of columns some "Everday Language Building Activities", excerpted from the John Tracy Clinic Home Study Plan for Infant Language Development, will be highlighted.

Talk as you work...around the house. You can find many chances everyday to talk to your baby. Some of your time each day is taken up with house-work or meal preparation. Talk to your baby as you do your work about the house - cleaning, washing clothes, making beds, cooking or doing the dishes.

You don't need to sit down...and talk for a long time. Stop working for just a minute, look at your little boy or girl, and say something. Maybe you will just say, "Hi", or "Hello". Often you will want to say your baby's name. "Hi, Johnnie." "Hello, Linda." Call your child by his name and he will soon get to know it.

There is no better time... to talk to a baby than when you're taking care of his needs. You have his undivided attention -- and he has yours. Feeding, bathing, dressing, and diapering baby all take time, to be sure, but what precious time it is. Besides getting baby fed or clean, these moments can help build the love and understanding you and your baby share, and, as we shall see, may open new doors to the exciting world of words.

As you care for your baby...you are close to him.

Sometimes we have misgivings that in writing each week we over-play the good and make it appear that we lack for nothing if we want to do it. Actually and socially we are like any nursing home, only this one is exceptionally well run and staffed. But many goodies need to be scrounged for or we probably will not get them. If any member gets an invitation to go south we must accept with charm or maybe it will not come again. That is one thing that adds interest for all, yet, as we have written, it does add a tiny extra to Canada's economic woes. Now we hope you will understand if we continue to scrounge like any other nursing home. A point that comes to mind is the proposed wheel chair van fund that has sort of lapsed.

Bible study was not held Tuesday morning but there was a good attendance anyway.

Bernice Ross, Helen Archer and Betty Wise conducted a good game of bingo in the afternoon, a game that has a good turnout. The prizes given are sought after and can be eaten on the spot as the game progresses, some times within hearing distance, providing a distraction.

We are not sure if in January we mentioned taking a twig from one of our neighbour's beautiful red maples, but anyway we did and packed it in a plastic bag in peat moss and placed it in our refrigerator. Monday we took it out for room temperature, and now already the buds are white, ready to come into leaf. In a week we can pot it until it will be ready for planting out to become a tree. That is easier than getting one from seed and we can be sure of its breed. Cuttings can be taken successfully from almost any plant if you know how and

Did you know your community has a representative on the board of the Haliburton County Home Support Services? Well, you have. At the monthly meeting held Friday, February 19, 1982, the official board of directors was increased from 15 to 30 so every community in Haliburton County is now represented.

During the month of January, 165 Meals on Wheels were delivered by volunteers to seniors in our county.

Wheels to Meals are now being held in six locations with approximately 450 meals being served each month. Mr. Foggs is now hosting dinners for 30 seniors every other Tuesday. Sunny Rock Lodge, Locarno-on-the-Lake, Wagon Wheel, Bernie's Place are also wonderful hosts to seniors. Wilberforce and Tory Hill get together once a month over a lovely meal at their senior club. If you wish to attend any of these dinners and need transportation, a call to our office in Haliburton is all you have to make - 457-2941.

Our Information and Referral Centre for everyone in Haliburton County is now open. Susan Clements has appeared on Barrie television to acquaint everyone with the service we are now able to provide.

Twenty-two seniors are enjoying the on-going swim program at Locarno each Tuesday. Visitors are welcome at a cost of $3.

Have you had your copy of the "Winter 82" newsletter yet? This issue, just out, can be obtained at the office in the Haliburton Municipal office building.

The Income Tax Clinic will be ready to help any senior with their tax forms again this year. Please call 457-2941 for assistance.

Haliburton County Home Support Services is an organization made up of nearly 300 volunteers who are continually trying to broaden the horizons of the seniors of Haliburton County, or help them in any way they can, and what is more important, they do it with a smile! There are many programs open to you - come and enjoy!

Senior League

by Bert Harrison

We're starting in a brand new month here at Hyland Crest, to tell you what is happening here, I'll do my very best.

Mrs. Mae Austin fell and broke her hip, and is in hospital now confined. We are sorry to hear this for she is eighty-nine.

The Thompsons took the service Sunday night, in the absence of Rev. Burgess, who was elsewhere. So many residents have the cold, there weren't too many there.

Monday morning fun and fitness was held in the gym once more, where they play all kinds of games for who can highest score. We played Put the ball in the Bucket, and had a three-way tie - couldn't seem to break it no matter how hard we tried.

We have had some real winter weather, but it surely will soon pass. This snow will finally melt away, then we'll be out on grass.

Tuesday morning Rev. Elliott of the Anglican Church held communion service in the Chapel here. Fred Ballard came and played for us. It's nice he lives so near.

We wre pleased to hear that Rev. Brubacher is coming along fine. They are surely missed in this place. It will be nice again to see their faces.

Tuesday night is music night here at Hyland Crest. Cooper and Owens came and played their very best. Kathy played her accordian, Earle, his fiddle and mandolin. We look forward to when they come again.

Wednesday ladies were in the craft room, working, always working - knitting, sewing, stitching, their jobs never shirking. Ted Carr's making flower carts, as busy as can be. He says he is going to quit the job. I guess we'll wait and see.

Wednesday night is games night where we spend a social hour. I euchered Carrie Drysdale well - I held the bowers.

The Salvation Army ladies from Haliburton served the tea party here this Thursday afternoon. We thank them for coming. They said they liked coming, and hoped to come again soon.

Thursday night is bingo night here at Hyland Crest. The Kinsmen Club put it on, for this we're surely blessed.

We gathered in the auditorium this Friday afternoon for the World's Day of Prayer. We were glad to see so many assembled there. The guest speaker was Mrs. Rita Cavanaugh. Where was she born - now where do you suppose - over in the land where the shamrock grows. She gave a real interesting talk.

We thank you all who helped put on this real interesting prayer service.

Happy is he, who by love's sweet song,
Is cheered today, as he goes along,
Happier is he, who believes that tomorrow
Will ease all pain, and take away sorrow.
Happiest is he, who on earthy sod,
Has faith in himself, his friends, and God.

Until next time.

Heart disease will claim 80,000 lives

This year in Canada over 80,000 Canadians will die from heart and blood vessel disease -- more than 50,000 from heart attack and 15,000 from stroke while the rest will die from other types of heart disease. That is not a pleasant thought.

Although research has brought about dramatic advances in diagnosis and treatment, we still do not know the means of preventing heart attack and stroke. However, identification of the risk factors and other information has given us a key to reduction of the risk of heart attack and stroke, and thus reduction of premature death and disability.

In spite of efforts over 25 years to make all Canadians aware of the risk factors and the early warning signals of heart attack and stroke, the rate of death from these major killers continues at an appalling level. More than half of all heart attack victims die before reaching hospital where they would have a greatly increased chance of survival. These deaths usually occur within two hours of the initial symptoms. Delay spells danger. Minutes count, especially the first few minutes when heart attack or stroke strikes.

Throughout Canada, the Heart Foundation has been conducting programmes emphasizing the need to know the warning symptoms of heart attack and stroke and the necessity of taking immediate action should they occur. In addition, thousands of Canadians from all walks of life have been taught cardiopulmonary resuscitation techniques. As a result, many Canadians who would otherwise have died before reaching hospital have been given a much greater chance of life.

Because you may someday be with someone who will have a heart attack, it is important to recognize the usual warnings of heart attack. They are:

- prolonged heavy pressure or squeezing pain in the centre of the chest, behind the breastbone;
- pain may spread to the shoulder, arm, neck or jaw;
- pain or discomfort is often accompanied by sweating;
- nausea, vomiting or shortness of breath may also occur;

Babies hear conversations

It is easy for him to see your face and hear your voice. He is interested and fascinated. Right now your baby is too young to see or understand much beyond himself. When you are doing things he understands best.

An important word: "Up" ...How many times do you pick up your baby every day? Many, many times - when he wakes up, when he needs to be diapered, and when you put him in his high chair. These moments are fine chances to say something - he is looking right at you. "Up you come", "Up you go." You could use your baby's name as you speak to him. "Up you go, Tommy." Remember to use his name often.

Baby's bath...can be great fun. There are many things at hand that you can talk about; and bath time is one of those times when your baby has your full attention. What can you say? Here are some ideas: "Here's the soap"; "feel the water"; "splash, splash"; "it's warm"; "see the bubbles"; "here's the washcloth"; "wash your face"; "wash your toes"; "rub, rub".

Feeding baby...is an especially good time to talk to him when he is interested and close to you. We will give you some suggestions but we are sure you can think of many ideas of your own. Just remember to talk, talk, talk.

Here are some starters: "Here's your bottle"; "drink from the cup"; "open your mouth"; "it's hot".

Do you have the idea? Good. Doesn't talking to your baby make caring for his needs more fun?

Remember you're bigger than baby...so always try to talk with him face to face. Many mothers find that when the baby is in his highchair it is easy to talk to him because his face is on the same level as theirs. As your baby sits in his highchair in the kitchen, or near the table where you eat, turn to him and when he looks at you say, "Here's a spoon", (or a cup, or a dish). Hold the spoon, cup or dish so he can see it. Show him what you are talking about.

A deep knee bend...is often the answer. When your baby is on the floor or is in his playpen, get down to his level and talk for a minute or two. Don't bend from the waist; bend at your knees!

Your baby talks in his own way...He may be using his voice to show he is happy, or cross, or downright angry! Let him know you understand he's happy - or irritated, or just plain mad at the world. "I know you are happy. That's fine!" or "Yes, you're mad. I know, but that's the way things go."

When baby babbles or jabbers...say the same sounds back to him. If he says "ba ba ba," say "ba ba ba." If he says "goo goo" make the same sounds yourself. This will encourage him to go on chattering or babbling as he gets himself ready to really talk. Saying words takes practice.

This weekly column on child development is provided by the Haliburton, Kawartha, Pine Ridge District Health Unit's Infant Stimulation Programme.

Our good friend Florence Robinson gave me a poem she had composed and I would like to share it with you. The name of it is "Sharing". Every Thursday morning we go to the grocery store, and every time we go there things just seem to cost more. We look at the cheese and the biscuits, and wonder what we should buy, and always in the back of minds, we keep wondering why? So we cuss the poor storekeeper, and sometimes the Government too. Then we say to each other I wonder what we should do? But then we get to thinking of people across the sea. There hundreds are almost starving, not well fed like you and me; so let us stop complaining and see what we can do, to help the ones who are far worse off; than either me or you.

No mention of the weather this week - I mean, we all know old man winter let us know he was still around with that visit last Thursday. I won't even remind you of how fortunate we were to miss out on the freezing rain that other areas received. On to more interesting matters.

Like spring. Green grass. Robins. . Maple syrup. They're not all that far away. So it's none too early to circle April 10 as the day of to bring your appetite to the Lloyd Watson Memorial Centre for the annual Maple Syrup Festival. By day, feast upon yummy, gooey pancakes and bargain hunt at the flea market. That evening dance off the accumulated calories to the sounds of the 'Versatiles'. A day with something for everyone. Local maple syrup producers are being especially encouraged and promoted this year, so it would be a good opportunity for the them to reserve a table from which to sell their wares. Of course the tables are available to anyone with articles to market, but they're going fast so it would be wise to call either Phyllis Gallen (448-2070) or Jo-Anne Coumbs right away to book your space.

Not quite so distant is the St. Patrick's dance that will take place on March 13 at the Community Centre with the group 'We 3'. Polish up your jig, put on your green and pretend your name's McCarthy for a night!

Another joyful gathering wil take place the following day, March 14 when the Rev. Henry Getz will celebrate Holy Communion at the Tory Hill United Church at 11:30 a.m. And it doesn't matter what your name is to attend this one!

Still backing up in time (no, not reflective of my personality!), it'll be another Fun Night at the Library this Friday, March 12, 7:00 to 8:30 p.m. All youngsters are welcome.

Saturday night a surprise birthday party in honour of Lucille Klapow was held at the Legion. well wishers gathered for a potluck supper followed by an evening of socializing. A lovely cake with a creative touch was supplied by daughter-in-law Marilyn. Congratulations and many more, Lucy.

At the same time, same night hockey playoff fever had hit Monmouth arena where Inter-City Tire faced off against the Maynooth Rangers. Perhaps because it's the home ice of both teams, perhaps because it was a playoff game, whatever the reason the slippery roads didn't deter fans from turning out to cheer on their favourites. In filled bleachers accompanied by an array of bells and horns, the encouragement was as nonstop as the action on ice. There was an extreme difference in the number of players on the two teams. Wilberforce goalie Craig Walton was injured in the second period, but stayed in for the rest of the game. Despite these factors, I.C.T. put up a respectable fight that resulted in sudden-death overtime. Final score was 5-4 for the Rangers. Then it was over to Bancroft Sunday night, where a similar type of game resulted in a finish. I.T.C. again lost their lead allowing the Rangers to take home a 7-5 win.

Last week you read here of a layoff to take place this week for Martin Lumber employees. Happily, this was a case where the layoff was called-off, so it's work as usual.

Finally, a correction regarding some information passed along back in January. I received a detailed letter from Jim Miller containing all sorts of interesting tidbits on their life in the west. He points out that their home is actually 'Gem', Alberta, not Gunn as mentioned here. More on the Miller family to follow next week.

Talk about coming in like a lion. Wow.

While on the subject of weather, I would like to take this opportunity to give "a pat on the back" to Lyle Anderson who is doing such an exceptional job in clearing the snow from our main street. While Bill and I were busy at our own work at the Post Office last Friday morning, I could not help but notice how dedicated Lyle is in his job. It makes things so much easier for everyone and by the way, when you see the boys trying to clear the roads try not to park your car where they are working.

There seems to be so many folks on the sick list these days and among them is Eddie Brown of Norland, Bob Allen, Margaret Telford, Maizie Kelly of Coboconk who are but a few in hospitals. Mary Phillips, Jack and Joyce Hills and Mary L. Pyke are among the flu and cold victims at home.

Winner, once again, of the Kinmount Legion 50/50 draw in the amount of $34 was Gordon Taylor.

Results of the CWL euchre party, Tuesday evening, March 2: men's high: Ambrose Watson; men's low: Lyle Anderson; ladies' high: Nora Crego; ladies' low: Norah Brandon; and lone hands: Ambrose Watson.

Euchre results of the Wednesday nighters at Galway were: ladies' high: Ruth Menard; ladies' low: Flo Drinkle; men's high: Doug Drinkle; men's low: Leon Wright; lone hands: Ida Young.

I was pleased to hear Ida Bowron is now home from hospital.

World Day of Prayer was celebrated this year in Kinmount at St. Patrick's Church. Attendance (23) wasn't too good but I guess the ladies just didn't want to venture out in the weather. It was a very nice service with Lois Wilson at the organ and a friendly gettogether, followed in the church hall with the St. Patrick's ladies serving a lunch.

Our local broomballers are still going strong. This past week saw the "Firemen" down the Norland team with a score of 5-2.

A date to mark on your calendar: Saturday, March 13 where the annual St. Patrick's tea and bake sale will once again be held. Come out and enjoy a delicious lunch of home made soup, sandwiches, pickles, goodies and beverage. Following lunch you can visit with your friends and shop to your heart's content. Admission: adults $1.25 and children under 12 years of age 75 cents. Come out and enjoy from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Well, the old Pattie House is sold once again. This time to Bill Maloney, a brother to Dan Maloney of the Toronto Maple Leafs.

Have you tried these? Cheese Apple Squares: ½ cup butter, softened, 1 cup grated processed cheese, 1½ cups Robin Hood pre-sifted All Purpose flour, 1 tsp. baking powder, 2 tbsp. sugar, 1 cup apple jelly. Preheat oven to moderate 350 degrees F. Cream butter and cheese together. Measure flour, baking powder, and sugar onto waxed paper. Stir thoroughly to blend. Add dry ingredients to creamed mixture. Mix well. Divide in half. Press half the mixture into 8"x8" pan. Spread with apple jelly. Crumble remaining half over top. Bake at 350 degrees F for 30 minutes. Cool slightly. Cut in squares. Yield: 20 squares.

Happy anniversary to Helen and Alex Graham on March 17.

Not much is happening I guess, around Kinmount. No one has phoned this past week so I guess all are in hibernation. Hang in there, spring is just around the corner, I hope.

Stay well and happy, and hopefully I'll hear from some of you next week. Happy birthday to anyone I may have missed.

EXTRA! EXTRA!
General Motors, its salaried employees,
its suppliers and participating GM dealers say:
Let's Get Moving!
We're pitching in with $500, $750 and $2,000
bonuses on selected new GM cars and trucks.

That's right. For a limited time, you can get cash bonuses on eligible new Chevrolets, Pontiacs, Oldsmobiles, Buicks, Cadillacs, GMC and Chevy trucks.
This big nationwide incentive program is being made possible through the dedication and conscientious actions of General Motors, its salaried employees, its suppliers, and participating GM dealers, who contribute to these bonuses.
To qualify, just take delivery beginning February 1 through March 31, 1982. GM will then send you a cheque for your bonus. Or, if you prefer, you can apply it immediately to the down payment on the GM car or truck you select.
Fleet buyers should see participating GM dealers for details on fleet bonuses.
Non-fleet customers who have already taken delivery of an eligible car or truck beginning January 13 through January 31, 1982 will receive a bonus from GM ranging from $375 to $1,500. This does not include a dealer's contribution.
So make your move now. See your participating GM dealer and get a great deal on a new GM car or truck.

Hi folks! Your roving reporter is here with all the happenings of our area. In talking with Linda Halwas, she informed me that Rob Medcalf broke his ankle while skiing at Sir Sam's. Rob, the youngest son of Bruce and Gail Medcalf, had just recovered from breaking the same ankle in an earlier snowmobile accident. Rob is now taking up checkers as a winter sport for the rest of the season. Get well soon, Rob.

Several area youths were in Peterborough for the annual Peterborough International Floor Hockey Tournament. The area girls on the Haliburton team were: Lisa Sisson, Marion Medcalf, Tracey Harrison and Karen Cook. The two area boys were Kevin Barry and David McKay. Two teams from the States also competed in the tournament with the five best Ontario teams, and although the Haliburton teams were defeated they made a very good showing. Kevin Barry won a silver medal for being the most valuable player in one of the games. Better luck next year gals and guys.

In an interview with Marjorie Nicholls, the mother of "Blazing Bernie" Nicholls, of the Los Angeles Kings Hockey team, Marjorie informed me that her whole family was down in Toronto to watch her lad play against the Maple Leafs. This was the "Blazer's" fifth game with the L.A. Kings. Although he scored no points against the Leafs he was in a couple of powerplays that helped his team score. He was the third star selection in his very first game with the Kings against Calgary. To date in his first five games he has made four points, a very good beginning for this young star. Wayne what's-his-name had better keep his eye on this local boy of ours. We in West Guilford are proud of your lad, George and Marjorie, and wish him great success with the N.H.L.

I have been handed a complaint by a local youth who says quote: "About three years ago, there was a ping pong table in the community Centre for people to play - there are no teen dances, game nights, or movies like before. A rink at the centre was torn down to build tennis courts. Money collected for courts was used to buy bingo cards instead of a rink. So now the community centre is used for adults, not kids too. Isn't that what the centre is? For all to enjoy? So lets have the old things back if at all possible." This note was given to me by Rob McKay, oldest son of Bill and Joan McKay of our area. I can only answer him in this way. Yes, Rob, the centre is to be used for all the people in the area to enjoy. I am sure that the committee for the centre will be interested in your request. I will bring it up at the next monthly meeting. At the last meeting I attended, mention was made concerning a rink and I find it very difficult to believe that the money just went for bingo cards. I have seen the renovations and improvements that are being done at the centre. If you would like to put a petition in my hands, with as many teenage signatures as you can find in the area and a list of adults who would be willing to chaperone at these teenage functions, I will contact the adults for the purpose of forming a new committee for the teenagers of our area. A new committee would have to be set up as the centre's committee and volunteers have their hands full with the functions that the centre now has in its control, and it would be unfair for them to donate any more of their sparetime to take on another function like this. I may be "putting my neck in a noose" to take on this project, but I think it would be a good thing for the West Guilford area, provided the centre can receive some extra help from interested adults with children who need these recreational functions.

Talking with Carol Duncan, I was informed that the annual "Snow Shuffle Dinner-Dance" was a great success. Many people participated in the snowmobile safari. Close to 50 machines were cruising the trails for the three hour circuit. The dinner was delicious and plentiful, in fact a midnight lunch was served for the dancers. The next dance scheduled will be in this column with more details next week.

My lady, Jean, and I spent a pleasant day at the Legion's flea market. A total of 38 vendors were on hand with their wares. Many crafters were there with their products. We took two large boxes in for the sale and after selling out one box, I ended up carrying out two and a half boxes. Jean and I cannot pass up bargains. Jan Shipley, the Legion member who collects table rental space for the flea market, told me that the flea market is going very well and the spaces are booked for the April 10 flea market sale. The Legion ladies did a fantastic job on the sandwiches, soup, coffee, and other snacks. The bake tables did very well on sales and the table from St. Anthony's church seemed busy selling their popcorn, take-out spaghetti, and pizza to the many people flocking through the area.

Evelyn Robertson of the Fort Irwin Residents Association, called to tell me that their association held their March meeting at Mary McCallum's home. The meeting was co-hosted by Marion DeYoung. President Joan whom you can bring the contents of your heart and empty them out - chaff and grain together. The gentlest hands will then take it and sift it, keeping hold of what is worth holding and gently blowing the rest away."

How many of us can be sure that our friends could say that of us?

The United Church Women held their meeting in the church hall last Wednesday evening. The president opened the meeting by welcoming the ladies. The Devotional led from the Lenten season up to the Crucifiction. The programme with Mrs. A. Kernohan as commentator was based on interviews with the six women closest to Jesus during his life on earth. There was Mary, mother of Jesus; Salome her sister and mother of several of his disciples; Mary and Martha; also two other Marys who also were mothers of disciples. This programme gave us all an insight into the thoughts these women had, and as women it was much enjoyed by all.

A business session followed the programme, then the meeting was closed.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brandon returned this week after a holiday in Florida.

Mr. Frank Hargreaves of Minden attended the 25th wedding anniversary of his daughter and her husband Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Robertson at Gormley last week-end.

Adios and take care now.

Gooderham News

Visitors with the Fotheringham's on the week-end were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Huddlestone from Islington.

Last week-end seemed ideal for winter sports. David Lynas; Gary Lynas and wife, Jane, with their two children; Andrea Miller and husband, Vincent and their two children spent a few days of fun skiing and snowmobiling. They also visited their aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Madill.

Other winter sports enthusiasts were Marion James, her son, Doug, with his wife and three children, of Bowmanville who spent the week-end at their cottage. Marion and her son set a record by skiing across the lake to attend services in the United Church on Sunday. It was an unusual but welcome sight to see skis parked outside the church.

Visitors called last Tuesday to congratulate Mrs. Susie Madill on her 89th birthday. She seems much improved since her hospital stay. Best wishes go out to this wonderful lady.

Mrs. Mae Pickens also celebrated her birthday last week. She has had a busy winter with her knitting and crocheting. We wish her continued good health to fulfil the many happy tasks awaiting her clever fingers.

I am sorry to report that John Mackey, son-in-law of Mrs. Mae Pickens, had the misfortune to fall and break his hip. We hope he is able to be about again soon.

I was glad to know that Bruce Staley has improved enough to be able to return to his home from hospital.

Mrs. Elda Hunter has returned to her home after a holiday in Lakeland, Florida.

Tammy Dewey enjoyed a mid-term week's holiday from her studies at Sir Sandford Fleming, Peterborough.

The World's Day of Prayer services were held Friday afternoon in the Pentecostal church. The theme was "Gathering for Worship and Scattering for Service." Leaders Sharon Sauve and Pat Thornett conducted an uplifting and challenging programme in which several ladies participated. Maggie Haywood accompanied on her guitar and Julie Hunter, whose voice always delights, sang Psalm 103, the music of which she composed herself. Good fellowship was shared over lunch and a cup of tea.

food, the OPP helped control the event and the RCMP patrolled the lake.

After the success of the ski event, the LKTA was officially formed. The group had made a profit during the ski tournament; enough, in fact, to sponsor free bus tours around the lake and up to Skyline Park. It was just one of the joint ventures that made operating a tourist establishment on Lake Kashagagwigamog enjoyable. "We (the resort owners) are very lucky to get along harmoniously. We worked well together," Bruce said.

It was not only group projects that brought the tourist operators together but also the knowledge that you could borrow ten pounds of potatoes or a bag of sugar if you ran short, Bruce said. When the kitchen was operated under the American Plan, a blackboard hung on the wall and the words written in chalk denoted the latest commodities borrowed from or loaned to Birch Point resort next door. Bruce recalls. When the list was at its longest, the staff and the owners knew that summer was once again in full swing. The Henrys appreciated the "neighbourliness."

The Henrys attended the Sportsman Show on numerous occasions and Bruce also helped operate the Association of Tourist Resorts in Ontario (ATRO, now Resorts Ontario) booth and also spent a tenure as the group's president. It was during one of the sportsman show stints Bruce brought the magnificence of Lake Kashagawigamog to the attention of CBC radio broadcasters. Acting as a circus-like barker, under the banner of ATRO, Bruce called out to a passing broadcaster, asking if he knew what the letters represented. The broadcaster, hesitantly, said no and after listening to Bruce's monologue, suggested the resort owner should appear on the next day's morning show. Bruce agreed. During the morning interview, Bruce informed the radio station staff they should only speak of Lake Kashagawigamog with supreme reverence.

"Everytime you mention Lake Kashagawigamog, you have to kow-tow," he told them. Although he now laughs at the situation, the lake seems sacred to the couple.

Even in their retirement, the Henrys will not forsake their treasured view of the lake. They have built a new home with a view almost identical to the one seen through the long windows in the lodge's main living space. They have sold the resort to Guy and Wendy Ramsey. Guy has spent his summer vacations for more than 20 years at the resort and the Henrys are glad one of their tourist family has purchased the lodge.

Now they've time for all the hobbies, they had wished to enjoy during their years of self employment. "We thought how nice it would be to only work two months of the year," Marion said of their dreams when they purchased Halimar. But they can assure the Ramseys that in return for the many hours of diligence spent over the years, they have "gained immeasurably."

When Bruce and Marion spend their leisurely mornings enjoying the view that brought them from Mount Royal almost 32 years ago they can be content with the knowledge that "It's not so far, to Halimar."

Halimar as it was shortly after Bruce and Marion Henry purchased it 32 years ago

Henrys honoured by friends, associates

by BOB STINSON

"An Evening for Bruce and Marion" was held at Wig-A-Mog Inn Sunday night hosted by the innkeepers, Art and Joan Ward. The Ward's and Henry's have been friendly competitors on Lake Kashagawigamog for many years and on the occasion of the retirement of Bruce and Marion a reception and buffet were followed by brief remarks from a number of well wishers who were guests. Included were congratulations and best wishes from the Lake Kashagawigamog Tourist Association, The Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce, Resorts Ontario and the Haliburton Cubs and Scouts group committee, all of whom have benefited by Bruce's participation on their board. The Chamber of Commerce took the opportunity to present the Henry's with a lifetime Honourary Membership in the Chamber.

A beautiful Duvet set was presented as a gift from all who participated. Guests included resort owners from Rice Lake, Orillia, and Muskoka along with friends from the community and members of the Henry family. The Casey family who operate Birch Point Lodge, next door to Halimar, including grandmother Gould, were on hand. Her late husband Bruce Gould was born on the present site of Wig-A-Mog Inn and his parents operated the first known tourist establishment in the area.

Also introduced at the function were new owners of Halimar, Guy and Wendy Ramsey. Guy Ramsey has a degree in hotel management and has worked in the food industry for several years. One of his priorities will be to open up Halimar's Dining Room once again.

World Day of Prayer held

Close to 60 people attended the World Day of Prayer Family Service last Friday evening, March 5 at Lakeside Baptist Church.

Bev Wooden, president of the Baptists women's group, welcomed everyone.

Eva Howe said the prayer and emphasized how, after hearing God's message, people need to scatter to put it into practice.

Danny Hayes read the scripture Mark 10: 13-16.

Stella Walker read thoughts on the theme which was "The People of God Gathered for Worship - Scattered for Service", prepared by the women of Ireland.

June Devolin, president of the United Church women's group, brought a message of hope. She mentioned the statistics of bombings, killings in Ireland, and parts of the world, and went on to say how some people don't like listening to the late news, because it's too disturbing. But, she said, Christians need to listen, and to care.

Gerane Bonyon sang a solo, accompanied by Velma Smith at the organ.

Why are these people on Canada's most wanted list?

There are jobs in Canada that cannot be filled because of a shortage of skilled people. Technology is moving faster than some industries. And if Canada is to remain competitive in international markets we must meet the employment challenges we face now.

Our hope is in informing young Canadians about the opportunities in the fields of skilled trades and the new technologies. At Employment and Immigration we have helped hundreds of thousands of young people discover options they never knew they had.

Federal government programs help train them so they can take advantage of those options. By special funding to institutions and colleges, Canadians get classroom education in priority subjects. And virtually all of the apprentices training in regulated programs are supported by some form of federal government assistance.

That helps people find the right job, and industry find the right people. And that helps Canada work.

Dorset News

by Phyllis Briscoe

"Housework is something that you do that nobody notices unless you don't do it."

The birds still have healthy appetites but this is the first year that the red polls have dominated the bird population. Other years we have had few from time to time but this winter there have been flocks of them at the feeder and they have been around most of the winter. There were more blue jays in today than we have been used to and a few grossbeaks but no chickadees. The latter seem to come and go, whether they change locality or just prefer different feeders from day to day we don't know.

We are sorry to report that the ice sculpture contest sponsored by the Dorset Lions Club was not entered into with much enthusiasm by the local youngsters. Where is the competitive spirit and creative ability that was around a few years back? To have at least 10 or 12 sculptures to judge was not uncommon. Maybe it was the weather, although it was cold enough, we can vouch for that. There was only one entry and that was by the third and fourth grades at the Dorset Elementary School who had fashioned a whale, and did a good job of it. They, of course, received first prize. Congratulations, children, for your efforts.

Congratulations to Ted Morris who celebrated his birthday on Monday, March 1. To take part in the festivities. Ted's mom and dad came up from their home in Newmarket and had a nice visit with Ted and his family.

The dance and sleigh ride on the 27th was a huge success. There were between 50 and 60 that went on the sleigh ride, with three sleighs taking the merry makers on their way. The dance was well attended and the 50-50 draw was won by Lance Payne. 200 tickets wre sold making the prize $100. The Community Centre Committee would like to thank all who contributed to the success of the event.

The Women's World Day of Prayer was held at the United Church in Dwight on Friday, March 5. This is always an inspiring service and was especially so this year. The theme was "The people of God gathered for worship, scattered for service," and was prepared by the women of Ireland. Mrs. Meriam Wiley was the speaker and wove an interesting pattern around the theme. There was an attendance of 27. Refreshments were served by the church ladies. During the service a group of four ladies dramatized the life of Brigid of Kildare who formed a community for Christian learning in the late 400's.

H.H. Instead of using expensive filters in your coffee maker try using a square of paper towel. It works just as well and is much cheaper.

- Intended for last week -

"The thermostat goes lower and the fuel bills get higher as we are heating in Celcius and paying in Fahrenheit or something confusing."

By the time this is printed we will know whether March came in like a lion or a lamb, but like the groundhog seeing his shadow we are skeptical as to whether either phenomenon is really a true prediction of weather to come.

Miss Heather Roche, daughter of Marilyn Roche is home for study week from Humber College, where she is taking a course in Early Childhood Education.

The Science Fair at Dorset Public School was very well attended which must have been gratifying for the teachers and pupils of the school. There were many interesting displays of scientific efforts that had been prepared. Also an interesting exhibit of lapidary artifacts and equipment put on by the Frost Centre and the Dorset Rock Hounds of the Senior Club.

The Huntsville Music Teacher's Association met last week at the home of Mrs. Marcella McKay, for their monthly meeting.

On Tuesday, February 23 there was a musical concert at the Faith Baptist Church in Huntsville put on by Mrs. Marie Habermel, her family and pupils. The proceeds are to go to the Norma Young memorial fund, which will be used for a scholarship in the future for a music student. The Habermehl family lived in Dorset some years ago and Mrs. Young's son George is married to the former Judy Lock.

There are Lenten services being held at the Anglican Rectory every Wednesday morning during Lent at 7:30.

We don't have too many eating places in Dorset but you can't go wrong at Hollow Valley Inn. They have house specialties each evening at nominal prices. The English type fish and chips on Friday is especially appetizing.

Were the Seville oranges early this year? They seemed to be here then gone and many of us missed them. However, a friend had some sent up from Toronto and invited me to assist in the marmalade making so we didn't miss out altogether.

H.H. Do you have trouble with the syrup pitcher dripping after pouring? Before you fill it put a little butter, margarine or oil on the spout.

Filman distributed "Vials of Life" to those who were in need of them. This program is sponsored by the Haliburton County Home Support System. These vials can save a person's life in an emergency if they are on hand and the ambulance driver knows that the person is in need of the vial.

Barbara Cummings recently retired and living at Haliburton Lake was welcomed as a new member to FIRA.

Shirley Mark, vice-president has just returned from a three month holiday in Alberta and British Columbia. The ladies all welcomed Shirley back to the fold.

Plans for a group pot luck supper were discussed and it was decided that the supper will be held at Alma Barjarow's home on St. Patrick's Day, Wednesday, March 17.

Doug McGee, representative of Ontario Hydro Energy Conservation, gave an informative slide presentation on fuel conservation. The Canada Oil Substitution Program was discussed with a question and answer period following. The ladies all thanked Doug McGee for his narrative and time.

Discussion was held on rental of table space for next month's flea market at the Haliburton Legion.

I met several of the charming ladies at the flea market on Saturday and they had a three table space, decked out with many fine crafts and other merchandise. They sold many tickets for a most beautiful quilt, to be given away at the Haliburton Lake Regatta, Labour Day week-end.

Charlie Betts, son Jimmy and long time friend, Dermot Coffee, spent the day fishing on Saturday, March 6 and stayed at the Brae-Mar Ranch to warm up before heading home. He claims to have had good luck on Green Canoe Lake and they caught several fine speckle trout.

House-hold Hint of the Week: Have you tried combing or picking the "fuzzballs" off a sweater or other woolen garment? Sand the sweater or garment with a piece of fine sandpaper. It works like a charm everytime. If your windshield wipers streak the glass, just rub the rubber arm briskly with sandpaper and your streaking problems are over.

Well, friends, that's all for this week so until next week God bless and take care for now.

John Scott of Searchmont spent a few days visiting with friends and relatives.

We wish a speedy recovery to Mrs. Estelle Ralph who is a patient in the Ross Memorial Hospital in Lindsay.

Mr. and Mrs. Sinclair Russell are leaving this week for California where they will visit with Sinc's sister Alice and family before going on to Australia to visit with their son Colin and his wife and grandchild whom they have not seen yet.

Ken, Michael and Laurie McKay all of Toronto were home with their parents this weekend.

We are pleased to hear that Fred Chapple is out of the hospital in Toronto and staying with his parents for awhile before returning home.

I hope everyone is remembering their sunshine sisters with friendly notes or cards.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Johnson are due back this week from their missionary endeavor in South America.

Mr. and Mrs. Les Dennison of Toronto visited with relatives over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Farrell and children of Barrie were weekend guests with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill O'Reilly.

Snowdon Supporters

The February 8 meeting of Snowdon Supporters, was held at Silver Birches Resort. The meeting was preceded by a pot luck dinner which was enjoyed by all. We thank Gord and Bernice for the use of their hall and the excellent eating arrangements.

The main topic of discussion was the work now being done in the Park area. This project is being funded via a CCDP Grant, which was received by the Township.

The trails currently being opened in the park have a dual role, both as ski trails in the winter, and nature trails during the rest of the year. As noted earlier, these trails are replacing some which previously traversed private land

There are also additional cross-country trails commencing from South Lake.

Happy Gang News

are willing to take a chance.

We did mention a diefenbachia in a pot hanging from a unique contraption. Now we have seeded some cherry tomatoes, four of which will be put in the perimeter of the pot as companions. When they mature and begin bearing ripe cherry tomatoes over the charge nurse's head she will have a handy source of her favourite fruit.

At a meeting of the Happy Gang Wednesday, Edgar Long was unanimously elected president. It is an interesting body that governs the residents of extendicare, Haliburton. When spring is established and the ground is bare we anticipate the shed will be doubling and as much of the work as possible will be done by the Gang, supervised by a qualified carpenter.

Another matter may be of concern and that is a possible forest fire around the extendicare building. There is much forest debris (kindling?) that abuts this property that could make a hasty evacuation if a fire driven by high wind took hold. There too, it could be possible that the Gang could help in grooming in the supervision of a qualified forester who knows the shortcomings of a handicapped person. Incidently then the grooming alone could provide us with interesting and cool walkways in the hottest days of summer, walk ways that could accomodate wheel chairs.

It is criminal how the Liberal Canadian government on their high horse squanders the Canadian taxpayer's taxes, much of which they cannot afford. No budget they bring in will help any because they do not know how to stop squandering. We know that from the past they prefer to govern by orders-in-council, by passing parliament and now Joe Clark has done what they wanted - a reason to discredit parliamentary procedure, even to its abolition. You remember in the summer there was no law in Canada as to whether Trudeau could take the constitution to Britain, but he side-stepped nicely, got Canada's supreme court to rule on it, law or no law and the ruling is now the law of Canada and no other law will be needed. What a cozening game Trudeau with Joe Clark's help, is playing on the Anglos of Canada and he is there to stay because Canada has no law to put him out no matter what he does. It looks as though Wolfe composed Gray's Elegy after all instead of taking Quebec. Perhaps Joe Clarke and his Tories had no other option and, especially if it results in an election and the Tories win, they will be more than vindicated. Let us hope so.

Friday, March 5, was the World Day of Prayer, coinciding with our devotional period that was led by Rev Rick Brewster, pastor of Alsaw Pentecostal Church with Olive McKnight pianist and Connie Love and Eva Howe of the Lakeside Baptist Church respondents in the World special service that was most impressive. Rev. Brewster reminded us that 'Our first ministry belongs to God' that would be well adopted by ourselves and our governments.

Ginger snaps are a great invitation so our ladies - Hazel Parish, Vera Griffin, Flossie Burk, Sylvia Gilbert, Ella Maugham, Vivia Bowen, Noreen Stevens, Shirley Frost, Ray Smith, Beryl Morrow, Maud Weston, Christina McCrae, Edith Hartle and Allan Macklin set out to make a mound of ginger mounds (not snaps). They turned out to be very tasty and gingery.

The Happy Gang manned one of the tables in the grand auditorium of the Royal Canadian Legion Saturday where a flea market was in progress. Our contingent was led by Ivy Shaw and consisted of Alice Hartle and John Sissons. As previously stated we were lucky to have the additional help of Justin and Jason Richards, eager sons of Cecile Richards of the staff of Extendicare, Haliburton. Our concession was successful.

Heart disease

- symptoms may subside and return.

Sharp, stabbing twinges of pain are usually not signals of heart attack.

The warnings of stroke are:

- a feeling of sudden, temporary weakness or numbness of face, arm and/or leg in one side of the body;
- temporary loss of speech, a trouble speaking or understanding speech;
- temporary dimness, or loss of vision - particularly in one eye;
- unexplained dizziness or unsteadiness.

In conjunction with these symptoms, a change in the pattern of headaches may occur.

Should these signs appear, act immediately. Get the patient to a hospital emergency room at once if the patient's doctor is not immediately available. Be familiar with emergency telephone numbers and remember -- the decision to call for help is too important to leave to the patient alone.

Prompt emergency care could save many of the thousands who die of heart attack or stroke before reaching hospital. Play your part by learning the warning symptoms of heart attack and stroke. Further information is available from your provincial Heart Foundation.

27. THANK YOU

I wish to express my appreciation and thanks to the St. Joseph Hospital in Peterborough while I stayed there. Special thanks to the nurses and to the cooks, and the good meals; also very grateful to all my relations, and freinds for flowers, cards, gifts and inquiries. Special thanks to Dr. Good and Dr. Meade for their prompt and good service.
Donald Little
27-P-10

I want to say thank you to many people who helped me and cared about me when I broke my ankle. Bob English, John Smith, Gary Warburton, and Claude. Thank you for your help at the arena. The Minden ambulance drivers were great and Hans and Wendell, you took care of me on the way to Peterborough. I appreciate the good care you gave me Mrs. Bain, and also Dr. Heyes. The cards, visits and phone calls made the time go by faster. Good luck Midgets - Go get Wellington!
Scott M.
27-P-10

I would like to take this opportunity to thank all my relatives, neighbours and friends for cards, visits, phone calls, gifts of food and gifts.
I would like to thank Dr. Pierce and staff nurses of Red Cross Hospital, Haliburton and staff for good care while I was there.
Also Rev. Smith for all his prayers, and all those that prayed for me.
Thank you
Sadie Dean

Report from Parliament

by Bill Scott, MP

Last Tuesday the Progressive Conservative caucus in the House of Commons refused to return to the House chamber when the division bells rang to summon the Members to the House for a vote.

We were accused by the governing Liberals of being "childish" by not allowing the vote to take place, but as the Official Opposition in the Canadian Parliament we were forced to take a stand on a very important principle.

At issue was a government bill, called an omnibus bill, that would have established new laws respecting the government's new energy policies, but it was so wide-ranging that it would have created 15 new laws on just one vote. It would also allow the government to levy four new types of taxes in the future without having to present the matter to Parliament.

We in the Official Opposition felt that this bill should have been broken up into several bills, so that all of its provisions would be assured of close scrutiny and debate. As far back as December of last year we asked the Prime Minister to break it up into at least four bills, but he refused then, and he refused again last Tuesday.

The Conservative caucus felt that Parliament was being down-graded and that our Members could no longer act in the best interests of the Canadian people.

To make our point that Parliament should be above the whims and wishes of the Prime Minister, and not submit to one-man rule, we decided that under the circumstances we should not take our seats in the House.

Our patience ran out when the government attempted to push through this bill right on the heels of several Orders-In-Council that granted sweeping powers to the government that should not be granted without being presented to Parliament.

An Order-In-Council is a law that is passed by the Cabinet, in secret session, without having the law presented to Parliament in the form of legislation.

One of the powers granted, in effect to the Prime Minister, would allow him to declare an emergency on almost any pretext, and to establish internment camps and intern any Canadian citizen without having to refer the matter to Parliament. Under this power the press would be banned from reporting on the government's actions.

Another example of this practice is the government's imposition of the metric system on Canada, in spite of fierce opposition from the majority of Canadian consumers and merchants.

Parliament exists for the people; not for the government. If we are to legitimately represent the people, there must be give and take on the part of the government and the official opposition. Mr. Trudeau has shown over and over again, as when he recently said that cooperative federalism "is dead" and doesn't care whether the provinces like it, that he is prepared to take but he's not prepared to give an inch.

sulphur and nitrogen oxide deposits in each country result from domestic emissions.

Not only does acid rain threaten acquatic life, it also has detrimental effects on forests, soils and agriculture, as well as corroding buildings, etc. Most of Northern Ontario is susceptible to the devastating impact of acid rain, and within twenty years this impact will severely damage tourism, forestry and agricultural operations, unless gas emissions in both the U.S. and Canada are reduced or controlled.

There have been some attempts to convince the public that the U.S. is the main culprit with respect to acid rain. This contention is certainly not supported by the long-awaited report of the federal Sub-committee on Acid Rain - "Still Waters: The Chilling Reality of Acid Rain."

This report, released last October, has the unanimous support of all nine sub-committee members, representing the three major federal political parties. It makes some far-reaching recommendations, and provides a scathing attack on the very cautious policies of the Ontario Government in its so-called "war on acid rain". While taking the U.S. to task, the sub-committee also focusses on action which should be taken by Canada.

The sub-committee recommends using all possible political, legal, administrative, and media channels to reduce acid rain from the U.S. It also makes specific recommendations for domestic action, such as limits on emissions by companies, the improvement of emission standards, the study of effects of acid rain, more teeth in environmental legislation, an increase in public awareness, and incentives to persuade polluters to clean up their operations.

With respect to sources of sulphur dioxide in Canada, the eport notes that while most emissions come from Ontario and Quebec, there are also considerable sources in other provinces. For example, Inco and Thompson, Manitoba, is responsible for close to half of the emissions of Inco in Sudbury, Ontario, and is third on the list of sulphur dioxide emitters in Canada. Suncor Incorporated (Oil Sands Division) of Fort McMurray, Alberta, is number nine of that same list at 93,0000 tonnes per year of sulphur dioxide emissions. This situation lends an ironic note to the Ontario purchase of 25 per cent of that company's shares. Will the Ontario Government assume responsibility for reducing the company's pollution emissions?

Snowdon Supporters

They head toward the park and then veer to the north. Silver Birches Resort have opened, and are maintaining these trails and we understand they are in good condition.

Last minute details were arranged for the Valentine's Dance on February 13. However, at this writing, the dance is now history, and we can safely say it was a success and a good time was had by all who attended. Thank you to all who attended for your continued support.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Burt and Carolynne Smith, which is above the store in Lochlin, on Monday, March 15 at 7:30 p.m. See you there.
